Dread Of An Operation.

N. Manchester, Ind. Mrs. Eva B. Shore, of this place, writes: "I suffered female misery of every description. Two doctors attended me, and advised an operation. I lost weight until I weighed only ninety pounds. I dreaded an operation, but instead I can take arduous work as well as I ever did. Can I am sure, saved my life." arduous is today used in thousands of homes, where it relieves pain and brings back strength and ambition. It is a woman's medicine, for a woman's ailments, and you are urged to try it for your troubles. Ask your druggist. He will tell you about arduous. Advertis met.

MAKING UP LUNCH BASKET

Appetizing Picnic Meat Just as Easy to Prepare as One That is Apt to Become "Messy."

The holiday season means the picnic season, weather permitting, and the lunch basket stands out prominently in successful picnic preparations. A well-prepared, carefully packed lunch means contented picnickers, but there is nothing more disappointing than to open the lunch basket and find everything crushed and "messy." With a little care to preparation, however, this need not happen. There are many little ways of putting things up that will carry them in appetizing form. For instance a cake and pie combined may be made by lining pastry pans with pie crust and then filling them with a cake batter and baking them. They are much less apt to crush in the packing than the ordinary little cupcakes, and children love them.

Or a loaf cake may be baked in a tin cracker box. If this is done do not take it from the box. Just ice it and put on the cover and it will arrive in perfect condition.

Cream cakes are easily packed. A jar of cream filling can be carried or one of creamed chicken if there is any way to heat it. The puffs filled with this will be great favorites.

Ice tea can be made of cold water as well as of hot. Simply measure the tea into an earthen dish, pour over it the cold water, cover, and let stand for an hour. One never gets the slightest bitter taste in tea made this way. The lemon juice mixed with the sugar may be carried in a bottle.

There is no need of taking dishes that have to be washed and carried home again. With paper napkins and cardboard boxes, one can improvise a very good picnic table with strong envelopes rolled for cups; or there can be had from a store, for a very small outlay, a package of paper or fiber plates, cups, napkins and spoons, that can be thrown away when they have been used. They are lighter and less bulky to carry than the home table ware.

It is a good plan, especially if there are children in the party to take in the basket a tiny "first-aid" package, containing a roll of bandage, some absorbent cotton, a strip of adhesive plaster, a tube of antiseptic ointment and any other little first-aid necessity. Though this may not seem a festive preparation, it is often very welcome as minor accidents, really not more than mishaps, have a way of happening at picnics.

ATTAIN MASTERY OF HEAT

To Worry Over Unpleasantly Hot Weather is a Wrong Way to Alleviate Suffering.

One way to take the hot weather is to stew, fret, fan yourself and force your neighbor into company with your misery by asking him: "Is it hot enough for you?" Another way is to take it as an adventure. To be prepared for meeting the heat, you should drink no liquor, eat moderately and reduce your clothing to—or, if your courage is great, below—the minimum prescribed by custom.

The adventure itself is to prove yourself superior to the heat. Man, the master, can live in both hot and cold climates. His progress is marked by ever-increasing fear of things outside of himself, and ever-increasing dominion over another. His being—spiritual and eternal most people call it nowadays—cowers no more. Look upon the sun and its warmth—pretty well tempered to us—as the friend, and not the tormentor of humanity.

This establishment of a friendly relation with the source of heat waves helps some. But it is not enough. There is left the necessity for calling upon your inner strength to meet the heat and prove yourself the better in the encounter. You may not win. But you will be calmer and more self-respecting, and "feel better" if you attempt the mastery than if you sink down at the first approach of heat and wait for its blows.

MAKING BEST PRUNING CUTS

Method of Much Importance When Working on Apple Trees—Stubs Will Not Permit Healing.

The method of cutting when pruning apple trees is very important. The best advice is to cut every branch, whether large or small, as close as possible to the part from which it is taken. Never leave stubs, for stubs will not permit the healing over of the wounds, but may induce decay. Make all cuts smooth and close.
